WORD

Nehemiah 2 (NIV)

In the month of Nisan in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was brought for him, I took the wine and gave it to the king. I had not been sad in his presence before,² so the king asked me, “Why does your face look so sad when you are not ill? This can be nothing but sadness of heart.” I was very much afraid,³ but I said to the king, “May the king live forever! Why should my face not look sad when the city where my ancestors are buried lies in ruins, and its gates have been destroyed by fire?”⁴ The king said to me, “What is it you want?” Then I prayed to the God of heaven,⁵ and I answered the king, “If it pleases the king and if your servant has found favor in his sight, let him send me to the city in Judah where my ancestors are buried so that I can rebuild it.”⁶ Then the king, with the queen sitting beside him, asked me, “How long will your journey take, and when will you get back?” It pleased the king to send me; so I set a time.⁷ I also said to him, “If it pleases the king, may I have letters to the governors of Trans-Euphrates, so that they will provide me safe-conduct until I arrive in Judah?”⁸ And may I have a letter to Asaph, keeper of the royal park, so he will give me timber to make beams for the gates of the citadel by the temple and for the city wall and for the residence I will occupy?” And because the gracious hand of my God was on me, the king granted my requests.⁹ So I went to the governors of Trans-Euphrates and gave them the king’s letters. The king had also sent army officers and cavalry with me.¹⁰ When Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite official heard about this, they were very much disturbed that someone had come to promote the welfare of the Israelites.¹¹ I went to Jerusalem, and after staying there three days¹² I set out during the night with a few others. I had not told anyone what my God had put in my heart to do for Jerusalem. There were no mounts with me except the one I was riding on.¹³ By night I went out through the Valley Gate toward the Jackal^[a] Well and the Dung Gate, examining the walls of Jerusalem, which had been broken down, and its gates, which had been destroyed by fire.¹⁴ Then I moved on toward the Fountain Gate and the King’s Pool, but there was not enough room for my mount to get through;¹⁵ so I went up the valley by night, examining the wall. Finally, I turned back and reentered through the Valley Gate.¹⁶ The officials did not know where I had gone or what I was doing, because as yet I had said nothing to the Jews or the priests or nobles or officials or any others who would be doing the work.¹⁷ Then I said to them, “You see the trouble we are in: Jerusalem lies in ruins, and its gates have been burned with fire. Come, let us rebuild the wall of Jerusalem, and we will no longer be in disgrace.”¹⁸ I also told them about the gracious hand of my God on me and what the king had said to me. They replied, “Let us start rebuilding.” So they began this good work.¹⁹ But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite official and Geshem the Arab heard about it, they mocked and ridiculed us. “What is this you are doing?” they asked. “Are you rebelling against the king?”²⁰ I answered them by saying, “The God of heaven will give us success. We his servants will start rebuilding, but as for you, you have no share in Jerusalem or any claim or historic right to it.”

THOUGHT

Even though Nehemiah was doing God’s will, it wasn’t all smooth and rosy. Studying his life will help us, knowing the difference between idealistic ideas that leave us vulnerable to disillusionment; and, of be realistic while not giving in to losing creativity and quitting. Nehemiah faced real problems, but he moved through them to great accomplishments.

DISCUSSION

1. Why do so many of us have such a hard time seeing ourselves as world-changing leaders?

2. What do you think made Nehemiah such a great leader? How can you apply these qualities in becoming a “change your world leader”?

3. What is God leading you to do? Define your mission as clearly as you can.

4. Nehemiah overcame his fears to carry out his mission. What fears are keeping you from carrying out yours?

5. Why do you think Nehemiah was so confident that God would grant him success in his mission? How confident are you that you will succeed?

6. How will you inspire others to help you carry out your mission?

PERSONAL APPLICATION

- Share with God the things you are passionate about. Ask God to show you how you can make a difference in those areas.
- Tell God those fears that are holding you back from carrying out your mission. Ask Him to remove all these fears.

PRAYER

- Ask God what He wants you to do and to show you the mission that He has designed just for you
- Ask God to guide you as you carefully make plans to carry out your mission
- Ask God to equip you with the right people to help you make a difference in your world. Ask God for the strength to inspire them
